Mary Ellen O’Connell holds the Robert and Marion Short Chair in Law and is Research Professor of International Dispute Resolution—Kroc Institute for Peace Studies at the University of Notre Dame. Her research is in the areas of international legal theory and international law on the use of force. She is the author or editor of numerous books and articles on these subjects, including, International Law on the Use of Force, Cases and Materials (Foundation 2d ed. 2009) and The Power and Purpose of International Law, Insights from the Theory and Practice of Enforcement (OUP 2008). She chaired the Use of Force Committee of the International Law Association from 2005 to 2010 and is a vice-president of the American Society of International Law. From 1995-1998, Professor O’Connell was a professional military educator for the Department of Defense in Garmisch-Partenkirchen, Germany.

Intellectual issue to be addressed: Good Law against War